

Universal Opening Products

Over the past several months, CommScope has launched a series of different universal opening products: faceplates, surface mount boxes and outdoor outlet boxes. These products allow for the use of different CommScope form factor (M-series, SL and KJ) jacks to be used in the same port. This approach will allow for easier management of inventory for CommScope distributors and end-users. The attached document is provided to show all items that utilize the universal-opening already or will be released soon.
